

INDEPENDENT PROVIDERS' FORUM

Date
Tuesday, 12 June 2018

Time
11.00am to 3.00pm

Venue
Press Association, 292 Vauxhall Bridge Road, London, SW1V 1AE

Chaired by Graham Dudman, editorial consultant, News Associates

This forum is for heads of journalism or course leaders delivering NCTJ-accredited journalism courses in the independent sector. It provides an opportunity to network and discuss journalism training matters with the NCTJ.

Aims and objectives

Delegates attending the meeting will be encouraged to share ideas and issues about delivering the NCTJ diploma syllabus within the private training sector. We will also be discussing the NCTJ's strategy, apprenticeships, progress with online exams, developments to qualifications and awards, and the new approach to accreditation. We are keen to hear your ideas, discuss your issues and there will be plenty of opportunities to ensure all your agenda items are covered on the day. We would also like your views on safeguarding and training for reporting terror and trauma.

Who should attend?

This forum is for heads of journalism, course leaders or other appropriate representatives from NCTJ-accredited journalism courses in the private sector. There is no fee to attend but please make your own travel arrangements.
