CONDITIONS OF EXAMINATIONS

1. Exams may only be held in NCTJ approved shorthand exam centres.
2. Exam dictations are provided as audio downloads via the NCTJ website log-in portal. These are located in Shorthand Resources and the downloads will activate and be accessible one hour prior to the scheduled start of the exam.
3. Invigilators should ensure that the correct equipment is provided to run the exam, and that the audio download is tested prior to the candidates entering the exam room.
4. Exam dictation and transcription must be in the same room. No exam dictation shall be played more than once. *See point 14 for emergency situations
5. The title of the exam dictation (the name of the mp3 audio file) must be written on the board in longhand before the recording is played. The title does not need to be typed in Cirrus.
6. The only people present in the exam room, apart from the candidates entered for the exam, should be the invigilator (who may be a shorthand tutor). It is also permissible for a shorthand tutor to be present if required. Some centres may also wish to have a technician present.
7. No information as to the nature of the exam dictation or words used in it, except the title of the exam dictation, may be given either before the exam, during the transcription or after the exam.
8. There must be absolute silence during the exam. Candidates are not allowed to question any word or words after the exam dictation.
9. During the 30 second interval, and the 15 second interval at speeds of 90-120wpm, candidates may look through their notes but not start transcription.
10. Should it be necessary to leave during the exam, no more than one candidate shall be absent from the room at a time. The NCTJ must be notified if a candidate is absent from the exam room for a period of more than 10 minutes.
11. For 90-120wpm exams, candidates must submit the quote for marking in the quote box provided in question 3 on Cirrus. The quote will always be a minimum of 25 words up to a maximum of 35 words and will always appear in the final minute.
12. The NCTJ reserves the right to send its own representative to any exam in addition to the invigilator. Centres must ensure that the receptionist is aware of where the exam is being held so that if an NCTJ representative arrives he/she can be quickly directed to the exam room. He/she will not take any part in the exam, but may stay there until the end.
13. If an emergency arises and the exam room has to be cleared, candidates must leave all notebooks on their desks facing down. They should assemble in silence under the charge of the invigilator. On return to the exam room the exam should continue from the point at which it ceased. If the emergency or equipment malfunction occurs during the exam dictation, the NCTJ should be notified and a replacement will be sent.
14. Centres must use experienced invigilators. Failure to do so may result in exam conditions not being met, leading to the exam being declared null and void.
15. Exam documentation for the current academic year must be used. All documentation is updated in August of every year.
16. It is the responsibility of the centre and its staff to report to the NCTJ any suspected malpractice or maladministration by candidates or members of centre staff relating to NCTJ qualifications or exams.

ANY DEPARTURE FROM THE INFORMATION PROVIDED IN THESE INVIGILATION NOTES OR THE CONDITIONS COULD RENDER THE EXAMINATION VOID.
